LINDA STEWART AND SHIRLEY CAMPBELL of the Stitch 'N' Station fabric shop in the Main Street Depot.

New fabric shop open here

Stitch 'N' Station fabric shop, located in the old train depot on Main Street, Appomattox, will hold a grand opening this Friday, according to the business' proprietors, Linda Stewart and Shirley Campbell.

The grand opening will be held from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m., and will feature a door prize and a 20-percent -off sale on all fabrics. The fabrics sale will begin today (Thursday) and extend through Saturday.

The store features a wide variety of fabrics, patterns, notions, craft books, cross stitch, and craft patterns for sale.

Linda and Shirley note that this is their first venture in the fabrics business. Shirley has 11 years experience in the retail food business.

"Linda decided she wanted to go into this business, and she gave me a call to see if I'd like to go in with her, and so here we are now," notes Shirley.

Linda notes that plans call for Evelyn Ford to work at the shop from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. each Thursday on alterations and sewing.

In addition, the shop will offer classes in sewing, quilting and candle wicking according to Linda.

The store offers a five-percent discount to senior citizens, and a ten-percent discount to students and church groups.

Linda notes that the store recently received a shipment of new fabrics, including oxford cloths, poly-gab, and 100 percent cotton 60-inch-wide muslin. The store also offers a wide variety of fancy laces, including clung lace in white and ecru, according to Shirley.

Both women recently attended the Virginia-Carolina Fabric Show in Charlotte, N. C. "We got a lot out of that," Shirley notes. While there they viewed some of the upcoming fall fashions and fabrics.

The store will be open Monday through Friday from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m., and on Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.

"We really hope to serve the people of Appomattox," Shirley notes. "We have had a great number of requests fabrics and sewing supplies," Linda concludes.

Farm bureau meeting slated

The Appomattox County Farm Bureau will hold its annual spring dinner meeting May 8, 1982 at 7:00 p.m. in the Appomattox County High School cafeteria. Meat and beverages will be provided by the Farm Bureau. Members are asked to bring vegetables and a salad or dessert.

The Women's Committee is again sponsoring the Miss Appomattox County Farm Bureau Contest. If you are a producer member and have a daughter 17-22 years of age, please encourage her to take part in this event. The winner will receive a cash prize of $25.00, runner-up will receive $15.00, and third place winner will receive $10.00. The contestant must give a brief speech (1-3 minutes) on "What I Like About Farm Life." Attire will be street clothes. For more information call Margaret Glover at 248-6425.

There will also be a cotton-cotton blend style revue. This is open to men and women. There will be three divisions. Youth ages - through 15 years, Junior 16-22; and Senior 22 years and over. Prizes in each division; 1st - $15.00, 2nd - $10.00 and 3rd $5.00.

Winners in each division in the style revue and the winner of the Miss Farm Bureau Contest will compete in the State contest in Roanoke this fall. This is an expense-paid trip.

Miss Virginia Farm Bureau, Gayle Rice, is planning to attend.

Please remember that service agent, James Ford, at Locust Grove Farm has products available for members.

Perry McCraw, insurance advisor, is available to handle all your insurance needs.

A new program has been set up thru the Farm Bureau office, called the Farm Identification Program. This program is to help prevent crime. Markers are available at the office to mark your farm equipment by giving you a coded number.

Story corrected

New gas company is introduced in Appo.

Editor's note: The following story appeared in last week's edition of the Times-Virginian with misprinted information, and is reprinted correctly below. We regret the error.

A new propane gas service is now available in Appomattox, Appomattox County and nearby sections of Prince Edward County. The new company is Lynco Propane, which is a subsidiary of Lynchburg Gas Company.

According to Luther Walker, Lynco Propane manager, the company is already serving numerous industrial, commercial, farm and residential customers in the area and is aggressively seeking new business. "Although our names may be new to many propane users," said Walker, "our parent company, Lynchburg Gas Company, has 131 years of energy experience in Central Virginia. We have the people, the equipment and the fuel to meet customers' needs for economical and reliable propane service."

Walker pointed out that one nation propane supplier has recently withdrawn from the area.

"Lynco Propane is locally owned and managed," said Walker. "We're committed to the future of this area and to providing the best possible service at the best possible price."

Weed control methods cited

By Jim Smith
Extension Agent

It's corn planting time an there are a number of excellent herbicides that can be used to control weeds. These herbicides are fairly specific; some for broadleaf weeds, some for annual grasses, Johnsongrass, nutgrass or for killing a sod to plant corn no-till.

The grower should know what kind of weed is to be controlled in order to select the most effective herbicide. There are also cost differences and this may be a factor to consider, especially this year.

• • •

The eastern tent caterpillar is making its annual visitation. It can strip many leaves from apples, cherry and certain ornamentals.

Don't "burn" them out. This causes excessive damage to the tree. Spray with either sevin, diazinon, orthene, malathion, Methoxychlor or dipel. The earlier an insecticide is applied, the easier it is for the larvae to be controlled. Delay treatment until late afternoon when a majority of the larave have returned to the nesting site.

•

We've had some complaints that the home orchard sprays are not really effectively controlling insects and diseases. The problem may be that the spray isn't strong enough.

There are some other combinations that would possibly do a better job. Finding a source of ingredients could be too [illegible] two for you to consider:

Per gallon of water
2 tbl. Dilar 76W + 1 tbl. Imidan 50% WP or 2 tbl. Captan 50% WP + 3 tbl. Malathion 25% WP + 2 tbl. Methoxychlor 50% WP

The latter mixture is similar to many of the home orchard sprays on the market, but is a much stronger solution.

• • •

The feeder cattle sale on April 15 in Lynchburg had higher steer prices than the earlier sale. Steers topped out at $76.75 per cwt. Other steel cattle sold in the mid to high 60's.

• • •

Cattlemen–be sure that your suckling calves and graning steers are implanted.

Suckling calves should receive a Ralgro implant. Steer cattle weighing 400 pounds or more should receive a Synovex-S implant.

There is a new implant that has just received FDA clearance and is available. It can be used in suckling or older cattle. Requires only one implant for the life of the animal, but as you might expect, more expensive. There is no withdrawal period when this material is used. It is called Compudose.

•

There will be a test demonstration on the Marvin Glover farm using Eradicane and Eradicane Extra.

Eradicane Extra is a new introduction this year and is supposed to be longer lasting.

The field being treated has a heavy infestation of shattercane and Eradicane [illegible] weed.

Happiness is 4-H

The 4-H Forestry Judging team travels to the West Central 4-H Camp on Smith Mountain Lake on Saturday morning for the District Forestry Judging Contest. The contest will include tree identification, measure of volume in board feet, use of a compass and pacing, and evaluation of a forest stand. Members of this year's forestry teams include: Cathy Johnson, Lisa Harrison, Jo Ann Jamerson, Anne Hancock, Curtis Moore, Rick Pack, Nancy Cole, Brent Harrison and Leigh Ann Taylor.

Other Appomattox Judging teams including egg grading, meats and soils, will be involved in competition on Saturday, May 8.

• • •

4-H Camp applications are beginning to come in each day. 4-H'ers who sign up to attend camp will be mailed a list of camp classes and a camp health form in early May. The last date to turn in applications for this year's 4-H Camp is June 11. In 1981, nearly 170 4-H'ers attended camp from Appomattox.

• • •

A 4-H Mini-Swine Camp will be held at the Five County Fairgrounds in Farmville on Saturday, May 29. The prupose of this program, which will begin about 9:30 a.m. and conclude by 3:00 p.m., will be to help young people and their parents become familiar with the 4-H Swine Program and its opportunities. Emphasis for the day will be a selection of feeder pigs for a market hog project, feeding requirements, shelter and showing techniques. A delicious pork barbecue lunch will be served at noon. All young people with an interest in hogs are invited to participate.

• • •

Plans are underway for a summer 4-H Clothing Program for 4-H'ers interested in learning to sew. Details of these programs will be provided for the 4-H'ers during their May meetings.

In Appomattox County

Miss Farm Bureau pageant is May 8

The Appomattox County Farm Bureau Women's Committee will be sponsoring the Miss Appomattox County Farm Bureau Contest at the annual spring dinner meeting on May 8 at the Appomattox County High School.

If you are 17 - 22 years of age and the daughter of a producer-member, you are urged to take part in this contest. The winner will receive a cash prize of $25.00; the runner up will receive $15.00 and the third place winner will receive $10.00. The winner will also receive an all expense paid trip to the State Convention in Roanoke this fall.

Participants are required to give a brief speech (one to three minutes) on "What I Like About Farm Life." Attire will be street clothing.

The Cotton...Cotton Blend Style Revue will be sponsored; it is open to both men and women. There will be three divisions: Youth Through 15; Juniors, 16 - 21; and Senior 22 and over. Prizes for each division are; First $15.00; Second, $10.00; and third $5.00.

USDA ANNOUNCES 1982 TOBACCO PRICE SUPPORT LEVELS

Federal loan levels for eligible tobacco have been raised 10.8 percent above 1981 levels.

The 1982 support levels, by kind, and comparable 1981 rates, are:

KIND	1982 ¢ CROP (¢ cents per pound)	1981 ¢ CROP (¢ cents per pound)
Flue-Cured, types 11-14	175.9	158.7
Burley, type 31	181.3	163.6
Virginia fire-cured, type 21	123.0	111.0
Kentucky-Tenn. fire-cured 22-23	123.0	111.0
Dark air-cured, types 35-36	109.4	98.7
Virginia sun-cured, type 37	109.4	98.7
Cigar binder, types 51-52	125.5	113.3
Cigar filler and binder types 42-44,53-55	99.7	81.8
Puerto Rican, type 46	94.1	84.9

Current legislation requires that price supports be made available for those kinds of tobacco for which producers have approved marketing quotas. The law requires support levels for those kinds of tobacco be determined by first calculating the ratio of the average index of prices paid by farmers during calendar years 1979-81 (944) to the index average for 1959 (298). This ratio $3.17 is then multiplied by the 1959 support level for each kind of tobacco to determine the 1982 support level.

In 1981, support prices were 286 percent of the 1959 prices. 1982 prices are 317 pecent of the 1959 prices.

Price support programs for tobacco are administered by the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service through loans to producer associations.

PRE-MEASURE AND BE SURE, ASCS SAYS -

To avoid unnecessary worry about the loss of 1982 farm program benefits, ASCS recommends that farmers request pre-measurement of their acreage before planting.

This service is offered to assure farmers that they are in compliance with progam regulations, and that their acreage reports are accurate.

For a minimum fee of $14.50 per farm, we will guarantee field sizes and help farmers plan which fields to plant to various crops.

The service consists of measuring, staking and referencing fields. Farmers are enquired to plant within the stakes that are placed when we measure the land and to report their crop acreages to our office when planting is completed. To be eligible for 1982 program benefits, acreage reports must be accurate.

Pre-measurement is important in helping farmers plan which fields to devot to conservation uses and which fields to plant.

To request the service, farmers whould contact the ASCS office.

Ways to Control Appetites and Cut Calories

This is part two of a two-part article featuring suggestions compiled from previous Diet, Exercise and Behavior Modification Classes. They are:

1. Spend your break time at work doing somehting other than eating. Walking would be a good substitute.

2. Cooperate with others –if you work in the office with other overweight persons–make weight loss a group effort. The encouragement is great.

3. Leave a little food on your plate.

4. Use vinegar and lemon juice as a dressing for your salads. Seasoned salt also helps, too, if you do not have sodium restrictions.

5. Use sheer determination. It does work and you will feel better because of it!

6. Broil instead of frying.

7. Eat half a grapefruit for a bedtime snack.

8. Eat diet hard candy. The sugarless kind has 12-15 calories per piece.

9. Drink V-8 juice. (6 oz. only 35 calories).

10. Make a low calorie drink–½ cup skim milk, ½ cup fruit, 2 ice cubes, sweet and low to taste–and mix in a blender.

11. Wash under cold running water any fruit packed in a sweetened syrup.

12. Work to get into smaller clothes. Try them on as an incentive.

13. Stand in front of a full length mirror and let your goal be to fit into the mirror without lapping over the sides.

14. Lose some weight; this will encourage you to lose more.

15. Replace desserts with fruits–grapes, apples, grapefruit, etc.

16. Exercise regularly.

17. Avoid TV food commercials.

18. Eat fresh fruit or vegetable sticks before a meal.

19. Eat unbuttered popcorn for a snack. (1 cup equals 40 calories)

20. Slice an apple or pear instead of eating a whole one. This gives one a feeling of nibbling as they enjoy the slices.

21. Enjoy a half grapefruit for dessert while your family is eating other rich foods.

22. Simmer chicken breasts and diced onion. Season and wrap in foil. Bake until done.

23. Use plain yogurt or creamed cottage cheese in place of sour cream on a potato. Chopped green onions or chives may be added for flavor.

24. Eat one or two bites of a good dessert instead of an entire portion.

25. Eat dry puffed wheat or rice cereals for a nutritious snack. Be sure to measure the amount.

26. Drain fat from any grounded meat before adding other ingredients.

27. Remove fat from broths before making gravies by chilling overnight or using ice cubes for instant removal.

28. Weigh in the morning before dressing. This gives you the incentive not to overeat during the day.

29. Don't shop for food when hungry. This can cause one to over buy and to buy high calorie foods.

31. Go to a movie instead of eating out.

32. Spend money on clothing instead of desserts.

33. Exercise, run or walk with family members.

34. Cut down on intake of salt.

35. Exercise during TV commercials–think of how many calories you will burn up in one evening's programs!

36. Measure foods until you determine how to judge the size of portions.

37. Chew suragless gum between meals or eat a sugarless breath mint.

38. Eat at the same time each day.

If you have a homemaking question or problem, you may call 352-8244 or write P. O. Box 488, Appomattox, Va. 24522. It is always a pleasure to hear from you and to help you.

Have a good week!

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT:

Did you know that the Extension Homemakers of Appomattox County are sponsoring and maintaining a used pattern library at the Appomattox County Library? If you wish to borrow patterns or have some to contribute, you may bring them by the County Extension Office or may call Mrs. Teresa Perrow (352-5370). She is serving as coordinator of this project in cooperation with Mrs. Margaret Glover. County Librarian.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK
Angie's Forgotten Cookies

2 egg whites
⅔ cup sugar
1 tsp. vanilla
1 cup pecans (chopped)
1 6oz. pkg. chocolate chips (unsweetened)

Preheat oven to 350°. Beat egg whites until they stand in a peak. Add sugar, 1 tsp. at a time, beating after each addition. Add vanilla, pecans, and chips. Stir all together.

Drop by spoon ungreased cookie sheet. Put into oven. Turn oven off immediately. Leave without peeking for 7 to 8 hours. Yields 48.

Fun for children to make!!

Many thanks to Angie Thompson, a blue-ribbon cookie contest winner, for sharing this recipe.
